By the way, Rick - the Gray Lake double-arm is way overpriced @ $20,000 USA. - NOR IS IT ORIGINAL - please be careful. Do you realize that is nearly £7,000 per neck in real money? Strength!!

A new generic for all that lovely Italian food - ?
PUFFABELLI (with garlic).

When I raised my doubts about the so called "Moon landing" I felt like the only Loony in town until my son sent a PILE of internet stuff from critics finding similar impossibilities from wrong lighting and camera angles to clothing changes and reflections in a "live as it happened" film - later admitted to be edited. Omyes confidence doesn't it? Man's greatest achievement it may have been - as a HOAX?

Funny Ha-Ha. A client wouldn't pay up as he was getting MARRIED. Told him I'd hold the guitar for a while then he'd lose his deposit in lieu. THREE years later he asked for his deposit back as he was getting DIVORCED!! Kindly ~~★~~ → ☹️ !! and jump in the river chum.

Keith popped over for lunch and we had Puffabelli of course. That same day six people in all visited and by evening I was absolutely exhausted. Weird how everyone chooses the same day to visit Z Towers. Also had my first glimpse of the legit copy 12 from Dave of England. Not bad at all - but wish I'd still got my old "Dulcet" finger-picks to give it the old one-two. Am pleased the old jig worked for him. Magic.
